

With over 445 different shades, red is one of the most seductive shades out there. Team this rouge with both dark and light tones to avoid looking too gothic this autumnal season.

Red: the colour of romance has made an exceptional comeback in all aspects of fashion this year. Don't just stop at a red heel, mix it up with a bold lip statement as well. There has been a variation of red hues at the recent fashion weeks in both the clothing and the make-up, and models such as Cara Delevingne are also wearing this trend out and about. Eyeshadows have been softer and less striking to make the red look feminine and elegant, while the lips are left bold and striking against pale skin.
